

HAVE YOUR SAY ON THE FUTURE OF THE WELLINGTON ROOMS

Liverpool's much-loved gem at the top of Mount Pleasant is being restored and brought back to life by Liverpool City Council in partnership with the Merseyside Buildings Preservation Trust. The Council, the Trust, Historic England & the Wellington Rooms Steering Group have exciting plans for the building and want to hear the views of local businesses and residents.

The Wellington Rooms was built in 1816 as an assembly hall for the merchants and other residents of the new area of Liverpool we now know as Hope Street. It is Grade II* listed and of tremendous historic importance. Modern memories are built on its use as the Irish Centre and there is huge affection for the building right across the city.

HAVE YOUR SAY ON THE FUTURE OF THE WELLINGTON ROOMS

The future use of the Wellington Rooms needs to recognise the historic value of the building but also meet the needs of the local community.

If you want to have your voice heard or just take a look at the plans, visit our one day exhibition where you can:

- See the options for future uses
- View a flythrough model of the inside of the building
- Have a chance to put your views to the Trust and its partners
- Meet a representative of the Steering Group
